Wednesday 13th & Thursday 14th April 2011
 Olympia, London

It's where

Indoors...

...meets Outdoors

9am-5pm, Wednesday & Thursday
13th & 14th April 2011
Olympia, London

The brand new trade exhibition...
for all those involved with interior & exterior landscaping and landscape gardening.

WHO EXHIBITS

LANDSCAPE will feature manufacturers and suppliers of everything from cut flowers and vases through to pots and flag stones, conservatories and water features.

If you make anything from architectural iron work to bird baths, planters, or sheds then LANDSCAPE is the show for you.

If you are involved in the production of specialist trees, sculptures, structural steel and sundials then you should exhibit at LANDSCAPE.

If you supply soil, turf, plants and paving then you should exhibit at LANDSCAPE.

WHO VISITS

Recognising the need for a TRADE-ONLY event for landscape designers, architects, facilities managers, landscape contractors, event florists, event organisers, contract gardeners, interior designers and all those that specify where plants and planting is used, LANDSCAPE was born. Our target visitors will be all those that are looking to find new suppliers. Those that are involved in every area that requires plants and planting. Where ever there is a need for flowers and floral features then LANDSCAPE will be the place to find something exciting and new.

LANDSCAPE will feature contemporary, cutting edge technologies and methods and will be supported by show gardens, themed floral displays and a comprehensive seminar programme, coupled with the annual eFIG Awards on the 13th of April 2011.

SEMINARS

With a comprehensive range of seminars running alongside the exhibition, LANDSCAPE is certainly the event to attend.

With world class speakers already confirmed, including Dr. Paul Smith from The Royal Botanic Gardens at Kew, Sally Storey from John Cullen Lighting, Simon Scott from Haddonstone, Simon Lycett, Craig Knight from PRISM, Andrew Grogan from Henstead Exotic Gardens, Ercole Moroni, David Harber, Sean Myall from Marshalls, David Maeer from Marston & Langinger, Dan Pearson and Will Wimshurst from Rogers Stirk and Harbour, Dr Glynn Percival from Bartlett Trees and Kate Lowe, Editor of Horticulture Week. Also featured will be Chelsea Award winners Ian Drummond from Indoor Garden Design and Catharina Malmberg-Snodgrass from CMS Designs.

Topics are being updated each week and more specific details are available to view on our website at www.landscapeshow.co.uk

FEATURE GARDENS

The show covers the world of landscape from indoors to outdoors and we will have three feature gardens exploring that theme. Chelsea award winners Indoor Garden Design will be building an 'Indoor Garden'. Our second garden will feature where 'Indoors Meets Outdoors' and will be an environment designed by Tom Palfreyman, Chairman of eFIG. Our third garden will feature 'Contemporary, Cutting-Edge Technologies', by Chelsea award winner Catharina Malmberg-Snodgrass.
